

Integrating Authentic Cultural Resources into Curriculum

Thursday, August 25, 2016

10:30 am - 4:30 pm

Akron-Summit County Public Library - Main Library
Meeting Room 2 A/B

Presenter: Kathleen Shelton,
World Languages Education Program Specialist, Office of Curriculum and Assessment, Ohio Department of Education.

An essential component of a proficiency-based world language classroom is using authentic cultural resources in the target language. In this free workshop, teachers will use free online tech tools to make authentic videos more comprehensible to novice and intermediate language learners, helping them acquire a deeper understanding of the target language and the content being presented. Authentic resources will also be used in the creation of reading, listening and communication tasks that connect higher level thinking skills with depth of understanding. Collaboration time, sample lessons, tools and resources will be provided.

- 5 contact hours will be provided.
- Please bring laptop and authentic video and/or text resources.
- One hour lunch on your own.

Registration is requested. To register, please contact the library's Business & Government Division at 330-643-9020 or bgdiv@akronlibrary.org.
