VOICES from the RUST BELT

Tuesday, June 5, 6 – 8 pm Main Library – Meeting Room 2

Essays in Voices from the Rust Belt address segregated schools, rural childhoods, opiate addiction, and job loss. They reflect upon happy childhoods and hidden oases of natural beauty. But mainly they are stories drawn from uniquely personal experiences. Join us for readings by editor Anne Trubek, founder of Belt Publishing and Belt Magazine, and writer/ contributor Jason Segedy.

Voices from the Rust Belt is published by Picador, an imprint of Macmillan.
