

How to be a

Job Search Super Hero!

Wednesday, April 21, at 7 pm

Laura George, author of Excuse me, Your Job is Waiting, will be presenting new material on today's best job hunting techniques. Ms. George's extensive experience as a Human Resources professional includes working for a Fortune 100 company, mid-sized and small companies. She will discuss how and why employers select specific candidates to contact and then interview. Her practical tips will help you to see yourself as employers do. Let her insights about the current employment climate provide you with tools for success in your own job search.

If you want to empower your own job search, plan to attend this program Wednesday, April 21, at 7 pm in the Main Library Auditorium, 60 South High Street, Akron, Ohio.

No registration is required. The High/Market St. parking deck is FREE for those arriving after 6 pm. Sponsored by the Business & Government Division 330.643.9020

330-643-9020

Akron-Summit County Public Library

Business & Government Division
60 S. High Street, Akron, OH 44326
www.akronlibrary.org

Interpretive services are available. Please inquire.

BG-3021/300/03-10/kc