

Reinventing YOU!

Laura George, author of Excuse Me, Your Job is Waiting returns to the Akron Summit County Public Main Library

Tuesday, November 1

with her new lecture
“Reinventing
YOU.” This

lecture is for anybody who feels stuck in life. Want to move into a new line of work? Want to move into a new relationship? Just want to move? This lecture is for you.

Many people fail to reinvent themselves and stay trapped in lives that don't work when reinvention is the best option. Laura shows you how to avoid that trap. Chaos has power. Find out how to tap into the power of chaos.

Be energized by the power of focus. Laura uses wit, wisdom, and humor to get you moving from where you are now to where you want to be. Come and be enlightened and entertained. Have some fun while learning some fascinating tools and tips to assist you in all facets of your life.

About Laura: Laura George is an author, job search coach and motivational speaker. She knows plenty about reinvention. She's been a clerk, a purchasing agent, a merchant banker, a human resource manager, and an author. She has learned that in life, change is guaranteed and how to work with change, not against it.

Come to the Main Library Auditorium on Tuesday, November 1, 2011 at 7 pm to learn how to make change a positive force. Sponsored by the Business & Government Division. Parking is free if you enter the High-Market Garage after 6 pm.

Akron-Summit County Public Library

Business & Government Division
60 S. High Street, Akron, OH 44326
www.akronlibrary.org

Interpretive services are available. Please inquire.