

JAZZ AT MAIN LIBRARY

Featuring Steinway Artist Joe Augustine

Sunday, April 7
Saturday, May 4
Sunday, June 23

2 pm Main Library Auditorium

These concerts are free and open to the public.
Auditorium doors will open at 1:30 pm.

Enjoy an afternoon of jazz performed by Steinway Artist Joe Augustine and his Trio. Classically trained, Augustine has been performing and teaching jazz piano nationally and abroad for over 40 years. Currently he is Full Time Faculty at the University of Akron's Jazz Studies Program, and Artist in Residence at both the University and Lake Erie College.

Joe Augustine and his Trio will be playing a selection of jazz standards, original compositions, and classics from the Great American Songbook.

Support for this series is provided in honor of C Blake McDowell Sr. and C Blake McDowell Jr., long time Board Members of the Library, by the Beatrice K. McDowell Fund.
