

'A Backstage Tour'

with Maestro Christopher Wilkins

*Explore the Akron Symphony's production of
'Porgy and Bess'*

Christopher Wilkins, music director of the Akron Symphony, will speak about George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess at four free library programs. The maestro will share his insights into the music and history of Porgy and Bess and describe the Akron Symphony's staged production in detail. The performances will feature a cast of international stars together with leading performers from Northeast Ohio.
